Sanctuary Lamps 2021

As I shall not be able personally to receive your reservations for next year's Sanctuary Lamps please leave them on the plate when you come to church, in an envelope marked clearly SANCTUARY LAMP 2021, indicating whether the memorial is an RIP, an Anniversary or a Thanksgiving. I will allocate the nearest Sunday to your request. Please include the cost of £3 per entry. If this arrangement is not possible please ring me to reserve your date 0115 925 5514 Paul

Collection for Fr Michael

Several people have asked about showing how grateful we are to Fr Michael for all he has done during the interregnum for both our parishes. Fr Michael has an important birthday coming up on 10th January and we think this would be an appropriate time to say our thank yous.

The parish treasurers have agreed that all donations should be sent to Margaret Breedon . Her address is Babbington House, Babbington, Nottingham. NG16 2SS. If you would prefer to pay money directly into the Holy Trinity PCC bank account the details are: NatWest Ilkeston branch, 60 11 37 account number 05406153 - please let Margaret know how much you have given. If you are unable to do either of the above please ring Margaret on 0115 944 0020 and tell her how much you wish to give. She will collect it from you when we are back together but will take an appropriate amount from church funds in the meantime. Please can you send everything to Margaret by Tuesday 5th January. Please make all cheques payable to Holy Trinity PCC.

About today's Mass readings: Second of Christmas Fr David writes:

First Reading: Ecclesiasticus 24: 1-2, 8-12

This wonderful poem, of which we read all too short an extract, celebrates the splendour of Jerusalem, where the Wisdom of God, the Law, took root. The author loves the Law, the Temple and Jerusalem with all his heart, as the gift and manifestation of God. God creates by his Wisdom, the master-plan and agent of creation. Wisdom, expressed in the Law, is also the master-plan which guides God's image and representative, which teaches us how to live as the image of God. So our author sees Jerusalem as the visible symbol of all the beauties of God's creation. We Christians, however, see Christ as this Wisdom of God, who took root in his Chosen People, and in Jerusalem – or at least in Bethlehem, five miles away. For us, then, this hymn is a celebration of God's Wisdom in Christ, taking root in the human race. In Colossians Paul hymns Christ as Wisdom, the first-born in creation and the first-born from the dead. In the great hymn at the beginning of Ephesians Christ is described as the climax in whom all creation is summed up, in whom God 'brings everything together under Christ as head'. The completion of creation is, then, the fullness of the Incarnation which we celebrate at Christmas.

Second Reading: Ephesians 1: 3-6, 15-18

The sevenfold blessing, with which St Paul begins his letter to the Christians in Ephesus, sums up God's plan of salvation for humanity. The climax is in the centre, 'to bring everything under Christ as head'. Christ is the Wisdom of God, the plan according to which and through which all things were created. Christ is also the completion of the creation, and the unity of all things in Christ is a special emphasis of the whole letter. All things are under Christ as head creation, all nourishment for creation and all guidance of creation. In ancient medical science the head was held to be the source of all these: all nourishment comes through the mouth, the brain thinks things out and makes the decisions on which the whole body acts. Christ performs for creation these functions which the head performs for the body. In earlier letters Paul had written that the Body of Christ which is the Church is made up from many limbs and members, which all have different contributions to make to its wellbeing. Now he develops this image and differentiates Christ as the head of the whole Body as its guide, leader, nourishment and focus.

Gospel: John 1: 1-18

The Prologue to the Fourth Gospel has a special place in Christian theology, and for centuries was recited at the end of the Mass as summing-up the whole work of redemption. It begins with God's creation by the Word, and ends with the completion of the purpose of creation through the grace and truth of Jesus Christ. In the centre comes the Incarnation, which enables and invites those who accept Christ to become children of God. The gospel-story of Mark begins at the baptism of Jesus, and the voice from heaven declaring that he is God's son. Matthew and Luke add their two slightly different versions of the infancy narratives to show that Jesus possessed and manifested these divine qualities right from his birth. The author of the Fourth Gospel goes back beyond this, to meditate on the ultimate part in both creation and its fulfilment of the Word who became flesh. Perhaps the most exultant cry of all is 'we have seen his glory', for glory belongs rightly to God alone. This statement contains the paradox that Christ as a human being made visible this divine glory, and that it was his own glory, witnessed by the followers among whom he lived and moved.

Collect

Almighty, ever-living God, splendour of faithful souls, graciously be pleased to fill the world with your glory, and show yourselves to all peoples by the radiance of your light. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.
